Virginia Tech

From its humble beginning in 1872 with 132 students and two programs of study, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, popularly known as Virginia Tech, has evolved into a comprehensive university of national and international prominence. With nearly 28,450 students in Blacksburg and about 2,500 other students statewide, the university produces world-class scholarship in a challenging academic environment. University tradition is firmly rooted in its motto, Ut Prosim (That I May Serve), and its historic land-grant mission is brought to life through learning, discovery and engagement.

More degree programs – approximately 210 graduate and undergraduate – are available through the university's nine colleges (Agriculture & Life Sciences, Architecture & Urban Studies, Engineering, Liberal Arts & Human Sciences, Natural Resources, Pamplin Business, Science, The Virginia Tech Carilion School of Medicine, and Virginia-Maryland College of Veterinary Medicine) and Graduate School than at any other university in the commonwealth. Some 93 percent of all departments offer e-learning courses, which have attracted more than 130,000 enrollments since 1999.

With annual research expenditures exceeding $396 million, Virginia Tech ranks in the top 50 research universities in the United States.

WHAT IS A HOKIE?

That's the most often-asked question in Virginia Tech athletics. The answer leads all the way back to 1896 when Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College changed its name to Virginia Polytechnic Institute. With the change came the necessity for writing a new cheer and a contest for such a purpose was held by the student body. Senior O.M. Stull won first prize for his "Hokie" yell, which is still used today. Later, when asked if "Hokie" had any special meaning, Stull explained the word was solely the product of his imagination and was used only as an attention-getter for his yell. It soon became a nickname for all Tech teams and for those people loyal to Tech athletics. The official school colors - Chicago maroon and burnt orange - also were introduced in 1896. They were chosen because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

2010 Season Outlook

The Virginia Tech Hokies are coming off a strong 2009 season, finishing with a 19-12 overall record and going 9-11 in ACC play. The Hokies achieved a 12-3 record in Cassell Coliseum, picking up the most home wins since 1998, when the Hokies went 12-2 on their own court. It was just the sixth time in Hokie history that the team has won 12 or more matches at home.

"Last season, we carried on the winning tradition that we've started here and that allowed for our level of success to continue to grow as a program," head coach Chris Riley said. "We were ranked as high as 39th in the nation last year, and we are looking to match that and go even higher in this upcoming season."

The Hokies are still looking for their first ever NCAA tournament bid, and coach Riley believes the time has come for the Hokies to reach the postseason. "Our primary goal is to get better every day," Riley said. "We won't talk about wins and losses, but focus on improving on the floor every time we play. If we take it one day at a time, our postseason goal will take care of itself."

Now, as Tech returns 11 letter winners, including five starters, the Hokies are set for an exciting 2010 season.

SETTERS

The Hokies return junior setter Erin Leaser this season, and she will be joined by freshman Allison Munter. In her rookie season, Leaser was fifth all-time among Hokie freshmen with 1,084 assists. As a sophomore, she increased

Erin Leaser

- Led the ACC with 1,335 assists in 2009
- Second in the ACC and 24th in the nation, averaging 11.22 assists per set
- Named VaSID Second-Team All-State
- Tallied eight double-doubles and eight double-digit dig matches
- Second on the team with 21 service aces

her season total to 1,335, averaging 11.22 per set, which ranked her first in the ACC and 24th in the nation. The Allentown, Pa., native had a career-high 65 assists on Oct. 23, 2009, to help lead the Hokies to a 3-2 road victory over Boston College. Leaser also earned a team-best eight double-doubles, including recording 56 assists and 12 digs at North Carolina on Nov. 8.

Munter, a freshman from Chesapeake, Va., will provide depth at the setter position. A three-year letter winner for Grassfield High School and a member of the Coastal Virginia Volleyball Club, she was the Southeastern District Player of the Year and First Team All-Tidewater last season.

"We expect our setters to control the floor and be our quarterbacks at all times," Riley stated. "Erin is able to separate our team from the rest of the conference, which will be a key to continuing to climb in the ACC."

OUTSIDE HITTERS

Junior Justine Record and sophomore Jennifer Wiker return to the court this year after a very successful 2009 season at outside hitter. Record, who hails from Redwood City, Calif., led the Hokies in kills (333) and service aces (53) last season. Her 53 service aces ranked her second in the ACC and 22nd in the nation. She had a team-best 20 double-digit kill matches, 12 double-digit dig matches, and eight double-doubles on the season. Record was named ACC Player of the Week on Oct. 19 after recording 26 kills and 15 digs in an important 3-2 victory over Clemson. Her outstanding season led to her being named Second Team All-State by the Virginia Sports Information Directors (VaSID).

Wiker enters her second season after a strong year as a redshirt freshman in 2009. The Charlotte, N.C., resident played in 94 sets, appearing in 30 of the Hokies' 31 matches, and recorded 205 kills and 44 blocks on the season. She notched five double-digit kill matches, including earning 17 kills against Albany on Sept. 19, and again at Miami on Sept. 27.

Freshman Samantha Gostling, "one of the most heralded outside hitters to come through this season," according to Riley, joins the two returners in the front row. The Charlotte, N.C., native was the Southwestern Player of the Year in 2009 and selected by prepvolleyball.com as one of the Top 100 Senior Aces. She was named Ardrey Kell's Best All-Around Athlete three years in a row, Hitting Efficiency twice, all-conference three times, and an all-tournament Player in 2007. Additionally she won the United States Marine Corps Distinguished Athlete Award last spring.

"Our outside hitters will be young, but they have a wealth of experience at all levels of play," noted Riley. "Justine is the most veteran, but we have two tremendously talented youngsters, and I expect them to be the most physical group on the pins."

Justine Record

- Led the Hokies in kills (333), kills per set (2.80) and service aces (53)
- Named VaSID Second-Team All-State
- ACC Player of the Week on October 19
- Had a team-best 20 double-digit kill matches
- Second on the team with 302 digs

MIDDLE BLOCKERS

The Hokies hold on to four outstanding middle blockers and pick up the talented Victoria Hamsher to solidify a very talented front row. Senior Felicia Willoughby, who slashed several Tech blocking records in her rookie season, returns to the middle after earning several postseason accolades last year. Willoughby, who hails from Pleasanton, Calif., was third in the ACC in blocks (114), and was one kill shy of the team high, with 332 on the season. After her first three seasons as a Hokie, she is in second place all-time with a career .320 hitting percentage, and she is in fourth in both block assists and total blocks. Willoughby, who averages 142.7 blocks a season, is just 66 blocks away from becoming Tech's all-time blocking leader, and needs just 22 block assists to lead that category as well.

Willoughby is the Hokies' first ever two-time All-America honoree, garnering honorable mentions the past two seasons, and is also a two-time All AVCA-East Region selection, a three-time All-ACC selection, a two-time VaSID First Team All-State selection, a two-time Preseason All-ACC selection, and the 2009 VT Tournament MVP. As a rookie, she led the Hokies to 10th in the nation in blocks per set, and was 20th in the category individually. Additionally, she finished the 2008 season in ninth in the NCAA in hitting percentage, at .402.

Sophomore Cara Baarendse enters her second season after an outstanding rookie campaign in 2009. The Mason, Ohio, native led the Hokies and was tied for fourth in the ACC in hitting percentage with a .354 clip, which broke Tech's all-time freshman record and is third overall all-time for the Hokies. Baarendse had 14 double-digit kill matches, notching 280 total kills on the season, and was second on the Hokies in blocks, with 67. Following the season, Baarendse was named to the ACC All-Freshman team and earned All-ACC Academic honors.

Junior Kirsty Blue "has developed into a real blocking presence in the front row," according to Riley, "and will compete for playing time early in the season." The Geneva, Fla., resident appeared in just 52 sets last season, but averaged 0.73 blocks per set and 1.35 kills per set, hitting .277 on the season.

Sophomore Liz Trinchere, the Hokies' final returning middle blocker, is "really becoming a better offensive weapon," Riley stated. "She has the ability to hit off one foot, so she will be a solid right side for us in years to come." The Salem, Va., native appeared in just two

Felicia Willoughby

- Notched 332 kills and a team-high 139 blocks
- First two-time All-American in school history
- Currently leads all Hokies as a career .320 hitter
- Two-time AVCA All-East Region and three-time First-Team All-ACC
- Second all-time in single-match blocks, notching 13 at North Carolina matches last season, but her development in the spring will positively influence her playing prospects this year.

Victoria Hamsher comes to Tech as "one of the most decorated middle blockers in the country. We see her having a really bright future," Riley commented, "as she physically has all the tools to be a dominant attacker and blocker in the ACC." Hamsher, who hails from Nazareth, Pa., and is a member of Synergy Volleyball Club, was the Express Times Player of the Year, first team all-conference, a first team all-star, a Lehigh Valley Conference Scholar Athlete All-Area Team member, one of prepvolleyball.com's Top 100 Senior Aces, a finalist for the Pennsylvania Gatorade Player of the Year, and a member of the Junior Olympic National All-America Team.

"We ask a lot of our middle blockers," notes Riley. "They are a very good group offensively and we have been working hard in the off-season to make the blocking unit more dynamic and cohesive. They are arguably the best offensive unit in the ACC."

DEFENSE

The Hokies have a large defensive unit this season, with four returning players and three incoming freshmen. Senior Amy Wengrenovich and sophomore Morgan O'Neill bring the most experience to the libero position. Wengrenovich, one of the team's three captains, appeared in 119 sets last season and recorded 250 digs and 19 service aces. The Lancaster, Pa., native notched 10 double-digit dig matches in 2009.

Morgan O'Neill, originally an outside hitter, will see a lot of time on defense while recovering from shoulder surgery. She is "one of the best ball control players we've ever had, and her athletic ability and great touch on the ball will guarantee her playing time in almost every match." The Atherton, Calif., resident missed the majority of the first half of the 2009 season due to injury, but played in the final 17 matches, starting Oct. 2 at Wake Forest. She recorded 69 kills and 192 digs, placing third on the team with an average of 2.46 digs per game.

Junior Kirsten Higareda worked really hard in the spring and "her defense was fantastic". Higareda, a Woodbridge, Va., native, played in 71 sets last season, appearing in 26 matches, and averaged 1.07 digs per set.

Jessica Wellman, "the heart and soul of our team, always brings with her an abundance of enthusiasm. She plays with incredible dedication and makes our team better every day." The sophomore from McKinney, Texas, appeared in just two sets last season, but hopes to see more playing time this year.

Tech brings in three newcomers to the libero position this season, Rachel Lindsey, Laura Misiewicz, and Corrie Sanders. Lindsey, a native of Summerfield, N.C., and a member of Piedmont Volleyball Club, was a four-year varsity letter-winner and two-time team captain at Northwest Guilford High School. She is a three-time all-conference selection, who earned second team all-area twice and was named to the Chapel Hill All-Tournament Team in 2008.

Misiewicz, who hails from Herndon, Va., and was a member of the Virginia League Volleyball Club, was first team all-district, second team all-region, and a two-time All-Met Honorable Mention. She was the District Tournament MVP in 2008, the 17U NVVA Club Team MVP and an All-Fairfax Girls Team selection.

Sanders, a resident of Virginia Beach, Va., and a member of the Coastal Virginia Volleyball Club, was a VHSL All-State All-Star East team

Amy Wengrenovich

- Third on the team with 230 digs, averaging 2.10 per set, and 19 service aces.
- Had 10 double-digit dig matches
- Recorded a career-high 22 digs against Virginia Commonwealth on 8/24/07
- Notched 15 kills against Fairfield on 8/31/07

member and an All-Tidewater selection.

"We've got some tremendous talent in the libero group, with possibly seven players to contribute and challenge for that position, so every day should be competitive within the group."

SCHEDULE

The Hokies once again open their season with four tournaments. The team, which went 10-2 in tournament play last season, has some big challenges ahead in its 2010 non-conference opponents. The season opens on the road at Tennessee for the Comcast Lady Vol Classic on Aug. 27-28, where the Hokies will face Chattanooga and former A-10 rival Xavier. The team will have its first big challenge against the Lady Vols, who finished 2009 in the top 25.

Tech will then host its fifth annual Hokie Invitational on Sept. 3-4, where the Hokies will face three 2009 NCAA tournament teams—Coastal Carolina, Long Island, and Jacksonville State. Tech returns to the road the following two weekends for the Western Kentucky Tournament and the Cavalier Invitational.

According to Riley, "We have to learn to play better on the road. We had a great home record in 2009, and for us as a program to excel, we need to continue to push ourselves to be a better road team." By participating in such difficult tournaments this season, Riley is challenging his team to step up in the preseason in hopes that they can carry the experience into their tough ACC schedule. The Hokies once again play nine conference games at home and 11 on the road, "so in order to achieve our goal of an NCAA tournament bid, we have to win away; that's what preseason is for," Riley said. The Hokies will play every ACC team twice, once at home and once away, except for North Carolina and NC State, who they will only face on the road. The conference season starts at Virginia during their invitational on Sept. 17, and concludes on Nov. 26 at home against the Cavaliers.

Chris Riley

Riley led the Hokies to a 12-3 record in Cassell Coliseum in 2009, picking up the most home wins since 1998, when the Hokies went 12-2 on their own court. It was just the sixth time in Hokie history that the team won 12 or more matches at home. Tech finished with a 19-12 overall record, going 9-11 in ACC play and finishing in a tie with Wake Forest for seventh. Under his direction, Felicia Willoughby once again took home several impressive awards, including AVCA First Team All-East Region and All-America Honorable Mention. Sophomores Justine Record and Erin Leaser both earned VaSID Second Team All-State honors. Senior libero Jill Gergen set a new Tech record for digs in a match, registering 37 against Clemson on October 19, and Cara Baarendse broke the record for freshman hitting percentage, going .354 on the season.

In 2008, Riley took a young squad welcoming seven newcomers and turned it into a strong ACC contender. The Hokies went 20-11, 11-9 in the ACC, winning 20 matches for the first time since 2002, and sat atop the ACC standings for much of the conference season. Tech also won 11 straight matches at one point in the season, matching the longest winning streak in school history. Sophomore Felicia Willoughby blossomed under Riley's direction, breaking the school record and leading the ACC in season hitting percentage (.402). Willoughby led the team in kills (326) and blocks (117), and captured honorable mention All-America, First Team All-AVCA East Region, First Team All-ACC and First Team All-State accolades. Riley also helped develop freshman setter Erin Leaser, who tallied 1,084 assists on the year, fifth-most among Tech freshmen all time. Leaser earned a spot on the ACC All-Freshman team, received Second Team All-State honors and was named the state's Rookie of the Year by the Virginia Sports Information Directors of America.

Riley guided a young Tech squad to a 14-18 record in 2007, and an 8-14 mark in the ACC, tying for eighth place in the conference. Riley led the group to the program's 550th victory, coming over Wake Forest on Oct. 20, and its second consecutive sweep of the Hawthorn Suites Hokie Invitational. The Hokies set Virginia Tech records with 611 block assists and 394.5 total blocks as a team in 2007.

Willoughby flourished in her rookie campaign, having one of the best seasons ever for a Hokie freshman. The Pleasanton, Calif., native set a Tech record with 172 total blocks on the season, ranking first in the ACC and 11th in the nation. Willoughby also broke a Hokie record with 143 block assists.

In 2006, Riley led the team to its best finish since joining the ACC. The Hokies finished with a 17-14 overall record, their first winning season since 2002. Tech won a school-record 11 conference matches, including season sweeps of the 2005 Co-ACC Champions and NCAA Tournament participants Maryland and North Carolina, en route to a sixth-place finish in the league.

Prior to coming to Tech, Riley spent six seasons at Towson University, where he led the team to five straight 20-win seasons, three Colonial Athletic Association regular season championships, the 2004 CAA tournament championship and the 2004 NCAA Tournament. He won the CAA Coach of the Year award in 2003, and the America East Coach of the Year award in 2001. Riley had an overall record of 144-54 at Towson.

Before his stint at Towson, Riley spent six years at St. John's University in New York. While serving as an assistant with the Red Storm, Riley helped lead the team in its inaugural year as a Division I program. He implemented off-season training programs and assisted with recruiting. Riley also started the first volleyball camp at St. John's.

Riley also spent one season as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Jacksonville University.

A 1993 graduate of Jacksonville with a bachelor of arts in English, he played for the Dolphins' golf team and formed the men's volleyball club. He was the captain of the volleyball club as a senior.

Riley has competed in beach and USA Volleyball indoor leagues and tournaments. In addition to his college coaching experience, Riley also served as the head coach for the Long Island-Big Apple Volleyball Club, a nationally recognized junior team in Nassau, N.Y., from 1998-2000.

Riley and his wife, the former Tara Cahill, are the parents of sons, Aidan and Quinn, and a daughter, Kieran. They reside in Blacksburg, Va.

The Virginia Tech volleyball squad grew as a unit throughout the 2009 campaign to compile a second-consecutive winning season, the first time Tech has accomplished the feat back-to-back since 1991-92. Tech went 19-12 overall and 9-11 in the ACC. On the year, the Hokies finished 12-3 in Cassell Coliseum and notched victories over 2009 NCAA Tournament participants Georgia Tech, Clemson and Miami.

Felicia Willoughby earned All-ACC honors for the second straight year, marking the first time a Hokie has claimed All-ACC recognition twice in a career. For the fourth straight year, Tech placed an athlete on the ACC All-Freshman squad, as Cara Baarendse garnered a spot, after leading the team and ranking fifth in the conference with a .354 season hitting percentage and breaking a Tech freshman record.

The Hokies opened the season with a nine-match winning streak, and captured their first three regular-season tournaments. For the fourth straight year, Tech won its own season-opening tournament, the Hilton Garden Inn Invitational. The Hokies defeated Montana, UNC Greensboro and Liberty to take the tournament title. Tech head coach Chris Riley pushed his Hokie Invite record to 12-0 all-time. Tech downed East Carolina, Norfolk State and Arkansas, followed by NJIT, Yale and American to secure their own VT Tournament and the American Tournament, hosted by American University, crowns, respectively.

A tough bout with Virginia in their ACC opener handed the Hokies their first loss of the season at the Marriott Cavalier Invitational in Charlottesville, Va. Tech rebounded with a defeat of Albany, but fell to Villanova the next day, heading into exclusive ACC play with a 10-2 record.

A brutal road trip caused the Hokies to stumble in their next four matches. Tech traveled to No. 18 Florida State, followed by Miami, Wake Forest and Duke, and finished 1-3 on the trip, but earned its first ever victory over the Hurricanes in Coral Gables. The Hokies were the only ACC school to have to play their first five conference matches on the road.

Tech then returned home to Cassell Coliseum, and the friendly confines proved to be the cure to the Hokies' ails. Tech swept NC State and beat North Carolina, 3-2, in the first two matches of the homestand. The next weekend Tech battled back from a 17-9 deficit in the second set against Georgia Tech to win the frame, 26-24, and eventually sweep the Yellow Jackets.

The Hokies bettered that performance the next evening against Clemson. Down two sets to none, and facing a 21-14 Tiger lead in the third stanza, Tech stormed back with a 5-0 run and eventually took the set, 26-24. The Hokies fought off Clemson in the next two sets to complete their biggest comeback of the season, winning the contest, 3-2. In the match, Jill Gergen set a school record with 37 digs, while Justine Record tallied a career-high 26 kills, the most kills in a single match by a Hokie since 2004.

Tech extended its winning streak to five with a 3-2 win over Boston College in Chestnut Hill, Mass., but fell the next day at Maryland, 3-2. The loss to the Terrapins began a tough stretch in which the Hokies lost five of six. Following the Terrapin loss, Miami swept the Hokies in Cassell Coliseum, their first home loss of the season, and Florida State dropped the Hokies, 3-1. Tech swept NC State in its next match, but lost to North Carolina and Duke, 3-2 and 3-1, respectively. In the North Carolina match, Willoughby totaled 13 blocks, which ranks second in school history on the individual-match blocks list, and 12 block assists, ranking third.

The Hokies went 2-2 in their final four matches of the season, winning at home against Wake Forest, falling on the road at Clemson and Georgia Tech, and wrapping up the 2009 campaign with an emphatic 3-1 victory over Virginia.

Many records fell during the year for the Hokies. Baarendse set the Tech freshman record for season hitting percentage and Gergen broke the single-match dig standard. Baarendse's .354 season clip also ranks third all-time among all Hokies, while Gergen moved into third place on the school career digs list, tallying 1,708 digs in her collegiate career. Willoughby moved into fourth place in both career total blocks and block assists in the Tech record books.

KATIE ESBROOK

All-America
Honorable Mention

Katie Esbrook already had her place among Virginia Tech's all-time greats at middle blocker heading into the 2006 season, her senior year. But, by the time the season was complete, her name would forever be etched in Tech's record books and her place among the greats secured.

The Barrington, Ill., native put together a stellar final season, en route to becoming Tech's first All-American, by being selected as an honorable mention by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA).

The two-time preseason All-ACC selection was also the first to garner first-team AVCA All-Region status and to earn a spot on the All-ACC first team.

Esbrock finished her career holding Tech's all-time hitting percentage clip and top block assists record. Hitting .324 in her career, she also holds four of the top seven single season percentage marks. Defensively, she tops all other blockers with 374 assists, while ranking fifth with 87 solo blocks for second place in Tech's total blocks category, with 461.

HALL OF FAME

GINNY LESSMAN-STONICK

Ginny Lessman-Stonick played at Tech from 1980-83. As a four-year starter, Stonick was regarded as one of the top setters in the east and helped lead Tech to a 119-70 record, including an AIAW regional appearance in 1980.

The star setter and co-captain of the 1983 squad was the only player from District III to garner first-team Academic All-America honors that season. With a 3.88 GPA in electrical engineering, Stonick was also selected to the Academic All-America team her junior year.

In 1994, Stonick's first year of being eligible for induction into the Tech Sports Hall of Fame, she was elected, becoming the youngest member of the Hall. She was also only the second woman selected.

LISA PIKALEK

Lisa Pikalek played at Tech from 1989-92. In four years, the standout helped the Hokies to a 94-56 record, while maintaining over a 3.9 GPA in her dual major of psychology and sociology.

By the time she graduated, she was a three-time Academic All-American and four-time All-Metro conference selection, a first in Metro Conference history. She was also named the GTE Academic All-American of the Year in 1992.

Pikalek, who still holds three career records and two single-season top spots at Tech, became one of two Tech female student-athletes to have their jerseys retired in 1993.

Pikalek was a 2004 inductee into the Tech Sports Hall of Fame.

HOKIE STONE STORY

Most of the buildings on the beautiful Tech campus are constructed using Hokie Stone. This natural rock is a 475-million-year-old dolomite limestone, some of which is mined from a quarry located not far from campus. In constructing the buildings at Tech, a stonemason shapes individual stones, arranges them and cements them together with mortar to create walls of great strength and durability.

Blacksburg, Virginia

COLLEGE TOWN, U.S.A.

One of America's best college towns, Blacksburg is a perfect setting for Virginia Tech.

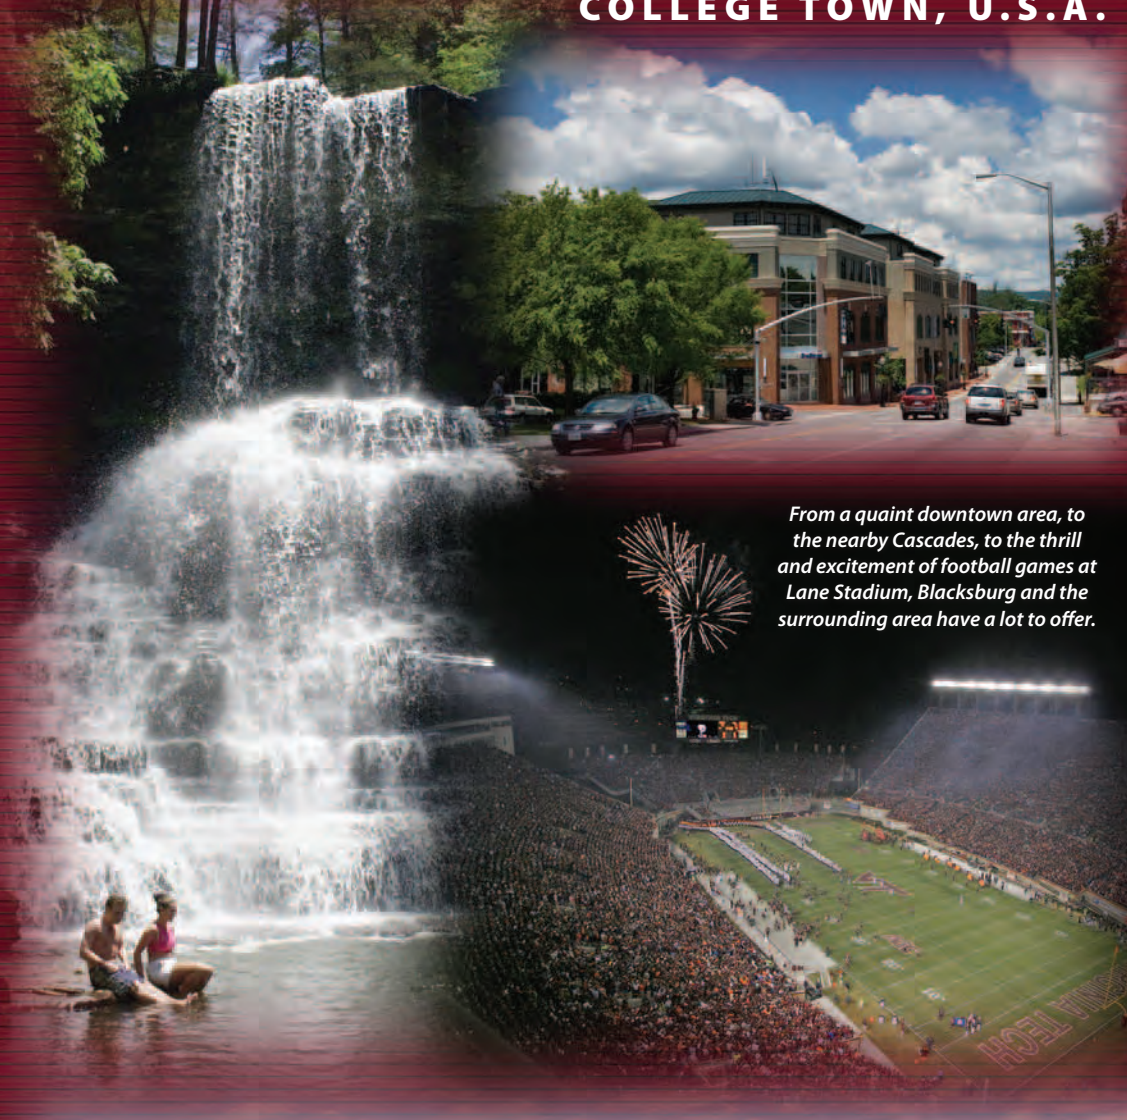

Located in Southwest Virginia on a plateau between the Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains, Blacksburg combines the laid-back lifestyle of a small town with the amenities one would expect to find in a major center of higher education. Together, the town and university have worked hard to create a progressive community that ranks among the nation's elite living environments.

Virginia Tech and the Town of Blacksburg gained national and international attention by creating the world's first "electronic village." Businesses and industries have been drawn by the potential of the town.

Established in 1798 by John and William Black, the town is surrounded by scenic mountain views that accentuate the area. Since its founding, Blacksburg has grown to become the largest town in Virginia.

More than 43,000 residents (including students) enjoy close proximity to a variety of recreation areas such as the Blue Ridge Parkway, Appalachian Trail, Claytor Lake and the New River. The region features a moderate climate and four distinct seasons. Blacksburg's location (adjacent to major interstate highways) provides convenient access to most points in the southern and eastern parts of the country.

More information on Blacksburg can be found on the Web site of the Blacksburg Electronic Village, www.bev.net or the town's Web site, www.blacksburg.va.us.

From a quaint downtown area, to the nearby Cascades, to the thrill and excitement of football games at Lane Stadium, Blacksburg and the surrounding area have a lot to offer.
